COUNTDOWN

MOON VALLEY '87

Junior lunchers under the sun.

It's contagious — the epidemic that's taking our campus by storm — SPIRIT! This invisible electricity in the air seemingly speaks to each and every person, generating an enthusiasm and fraternity uncomparable to any other. It's a special feeling that sets Moon Valley students, faculty, and parents apart from all the rest. Spirit infiltrates each person involved in the school with an unmistakable warmth. It's the honor, respect, and recognition each student receives for his/her unique talents and abilities; and the teamwork displayed in the classroom, in the arts, and on the field. It's what keeps our teachers and staff returning year-after-year. It's the pride and dignity written all over each and every graduate's face as he/she receives a diploma. And it's what awes freshmen each year. Moon Valley Spirit is catching...

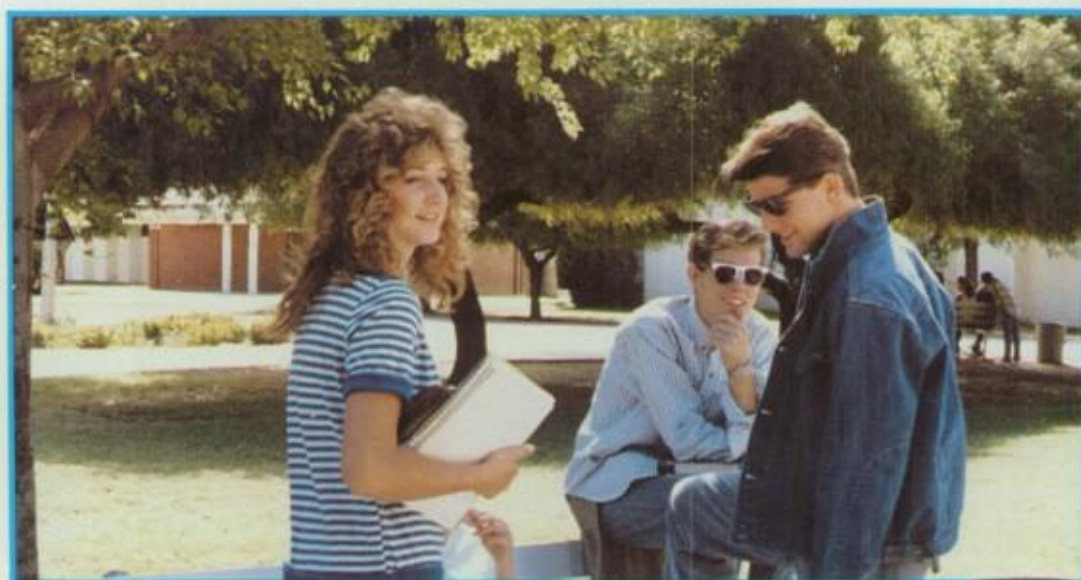

PASS IT ON!

SPIRITLINE

If you are an early riser, enjoy music, and are willing to do the best you can to achieve your goals, the marching band is a great opportunity.

The Moon Valley Rocket Marching Band is at school, 6:30 each weekday morning during football season to practice for the game Friday night. The band plays before the game at away games and during half time at home. Along with these activities the band competes at Band Days at NAU and ASU and marches in parades for many civic organizations.

Moon Valley Band, along with Spiritline and Flagline, are worthwhile and exciting opportunities. The dedication of all these groups helps to make them mighty!

MOON VALLEY CATCHES IT ALL!

As the band begins to play the school song, Moon Valley's own undefeated Rockets storm onto the playing field. The crowd roars with enthusiasm and support! The energetic Spiritline breaks into a lively and entertaining dance as the Flagline spins to the tune of victory!

Hardwork, crowd support, and spirit are the ingredients that make a winning team. These are the things that make Moon Valley OUTSTANDING!

Take A Walk

High-tops, Converse, slip-ons, Vans, creepers, Reeboks, moccasins, and Keds are seen repeatedly scattered throughout campus; putting their best foot forward.

Accessories add to the wardrobe; and the color silver was definitely a plus! Grandpa's glasses started reappearing and peace signs came back from the 60's. SWATCHS, big earrings, indian bracelets, belts, and lets not forget those LEVI jackets ... quality never goes out of style!!!

SECOND LOOKS:

Paula Bradford, Belinda Mountjoy, Joy DonCarlos, and Dean Avelar give us some HIP TIPS for style this year.

Dave and Chris look, um, can I say casual?

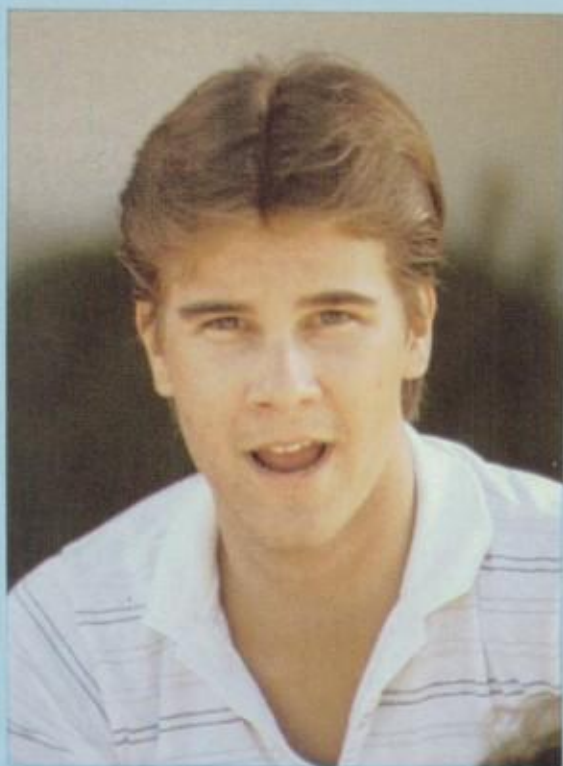

NEW WAVES:

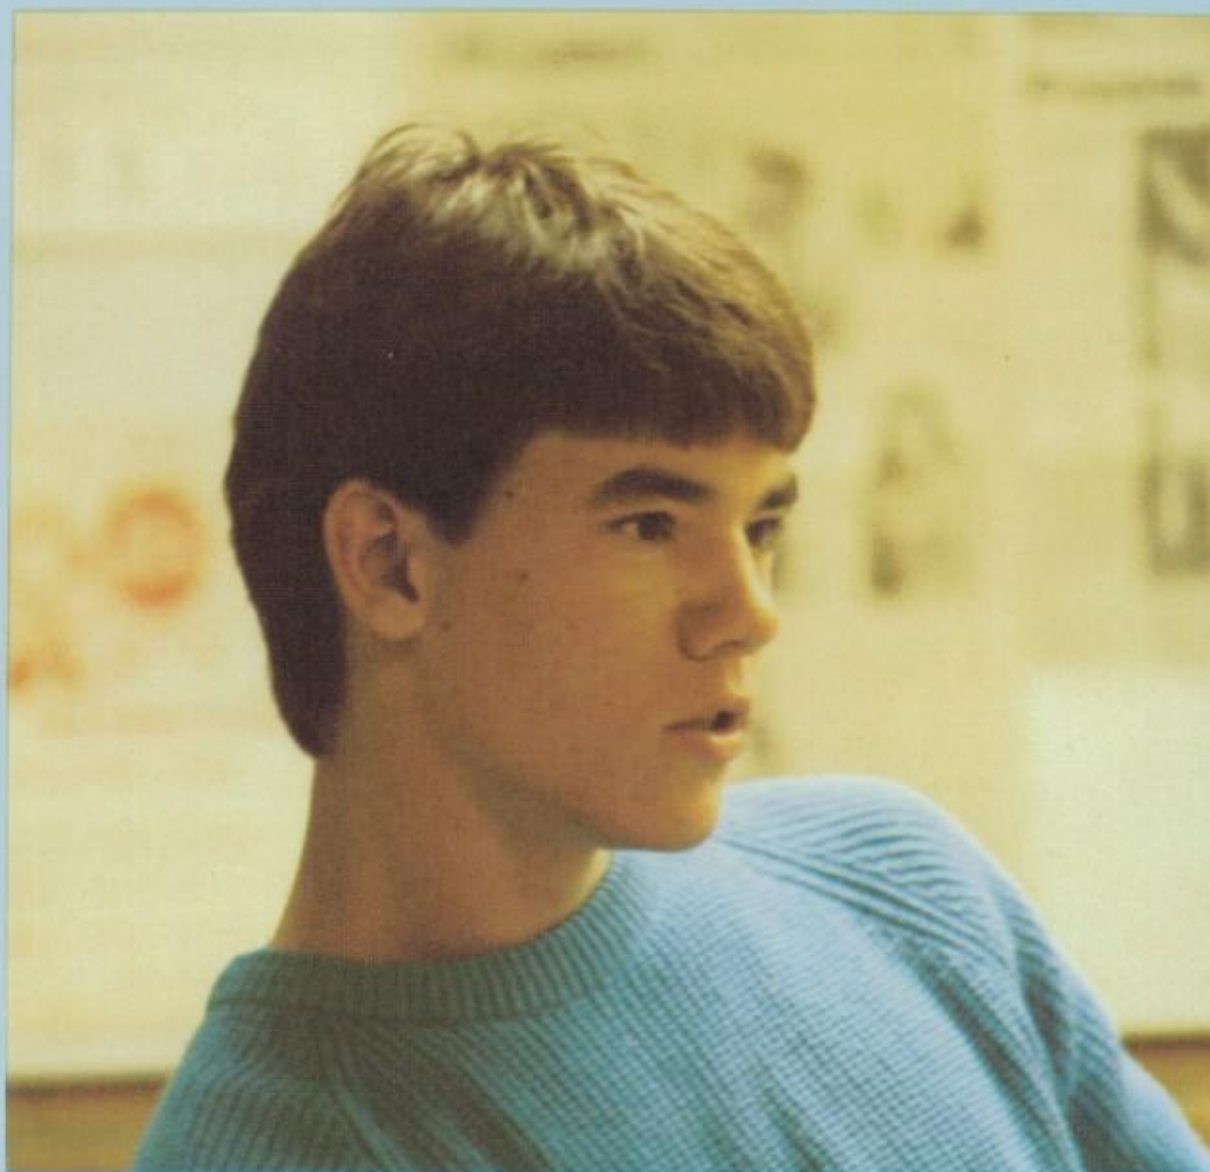

New waves in hair were Greg Bradford's sculptured bowl cut, Stephanie Toth's temp color. Chelly Thomas used a crimping iron for her effect.

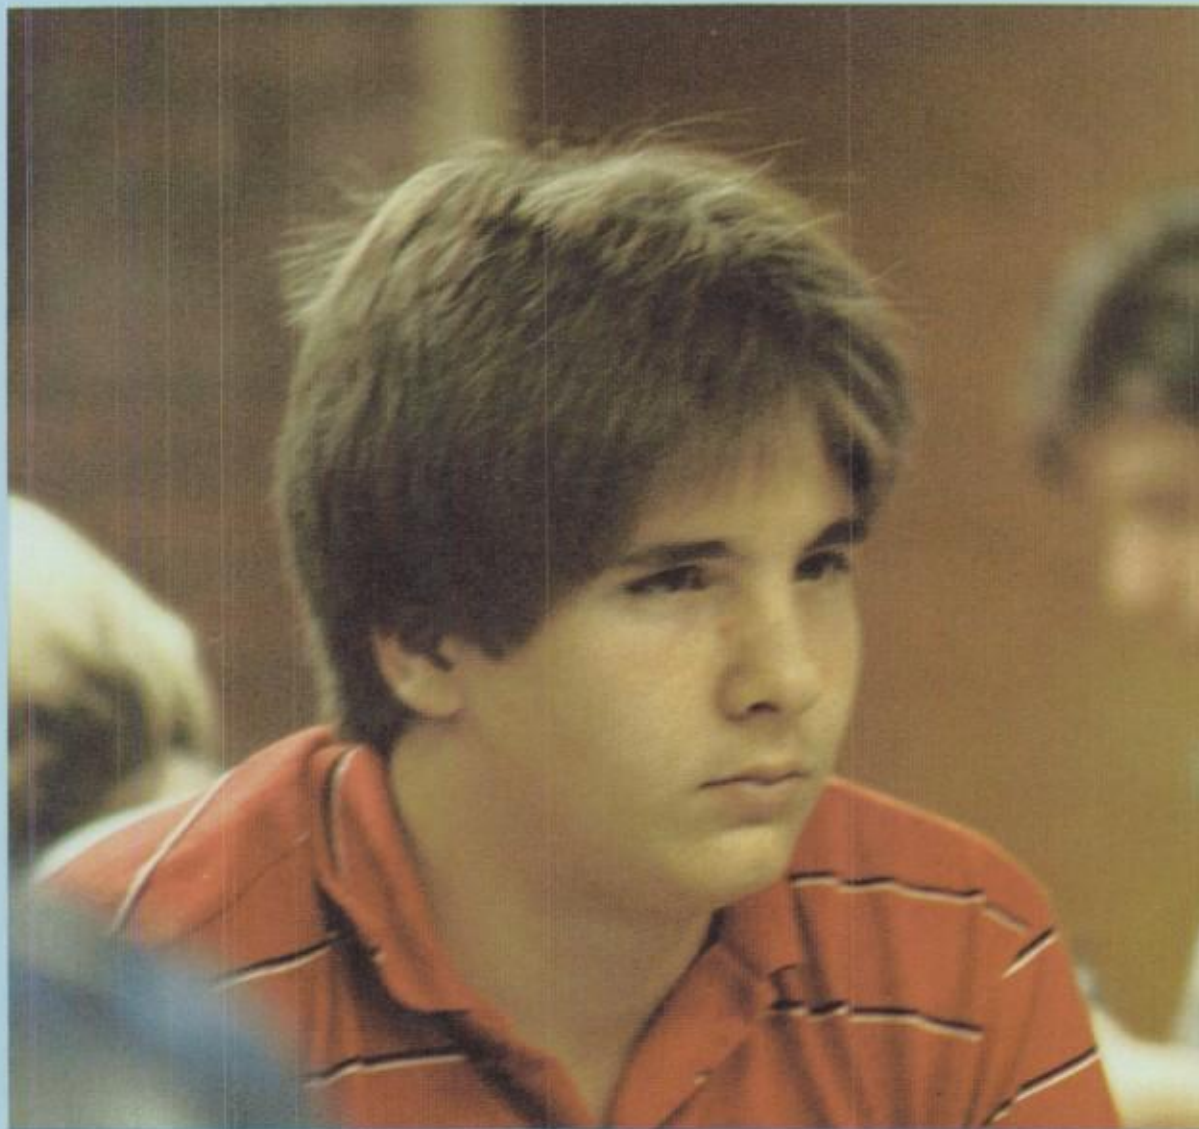

STUDENT LIFE

Can you imagine what school would be like without the students? Well, it certainly wouldn't be a school! Moon Valley is the students, pride and joy. This is all reflected in Moon Valley's academics, athletics, and beauty.

SENIORS: CAUGHT

The Senior Class possesses a certain quality that makes them stand out from all the rest. It comes from experience. They have been at Moon Valley for over three years. They are very familiar with its grounds, classrooms, teachers, administrators, and underclassmen. School activities, rules, and policies have become accepted patterns in their life. The growing, learning, and sharing that they have experienced while being a part of this campus, has caught them up in Moon Valley's spirit. As the seniors leave, they shed a tearful farewell to the past, grow continually excited about their future, and spark in all who remain, the spirit to pass it on!

SENIOR SHORTS

JUNIORS: CATCHING UP

The Junior Class, after two great years, have earned the distinguished title of "Upperclassmen." Freshmen were awed by them, Sophomores were envious of them, and Seniors had to share the spotlight.

As the year progressed we watched them preparing to be the next senior class. They became relaxed and looked so "in control." But they'll be remembered the most for being the most spirited. Their energy influenced all of us.

The guys were taller and more fun. The girls were classier and louder. They made the most of time; they studied, grew-up, and had fun. By the year's end they were ready to take charge as Seniors, and lead us onward and upward. It was their turn to pass their spirit onto us.

SOPHOMORE: CATCHING ON

The Sophomores, after a year on campus, caught ahold of the spirit. They shed their inexperience and revealed confidence and pride in all they accomplished. Learning from last year's mistakes, they made changes by accepting more responsibility, on as well as off campus. Getting a job and a driver's license were important goals this year. Going to dances and other school events had become easier. They felt more confident in the part they played at Moon Valley. The class of '89" was no longer "catchable," but were instead the ones who were "catching on." In their excitement it was easy to pass it on.

"It's you and I against the world, let's attack with spirit," says Joel (Scott) Barnett.

FRESHMEN: CATCHABLE

In September we witnessed the beginning of a vibrant new spirit. It possessed unique enthusiasm, color, and sense of style. The tremor was felt campus-wide; it was the start of the next chapter of pride and tradition at Moon Valley High School. It was the Freshman Class; the new Rockets; the Class of 1990. They were eager to experience new ideas and activities. We saw them at mixer dances, vending football games, joining clubs/organizations, and involved in athletics. They were energetic in the classrooms, around the lockers, in the cafeteria, and at the games. They were warm and friendly, and easily made new friends throughout the campus. Though at first they were captivated by it, they caught the Spirit, and passed it on.

A HEARTY EVENT

How Sweet It Was

How did you ask your sweetheart to the Sweetheart Dance? One student anonymously sent hers a single red rose for a week, before she finally asked him to accompany her to the dance.

The annual Sweetheart Dance was held Saturday, February 14, 8:30-11:30 p.m., in the school cafeteria. It was a couples only event, $8.00 per couple.

Entering the doorway through streams of silver, leading to a white trellis with streamers of red, white, and pink was only the beginning. Each table was decorated with a single red rosebud. Streamers of red, black, and white were draped from the ceiling; along with colorful balloons. The occasion was semi-formal, but beautiful gowns of taffeta, chiffon, and silk were seen on the dance floor.

A disc jockey was hired from Disc Jockey Entertainment to play slow, popular tunes for a romantic touch. Cookies and sherbert punch were served for refreshments. A red ribboned road marked the pathway to room 106, where Fran Smith Photography took portraits of couples.

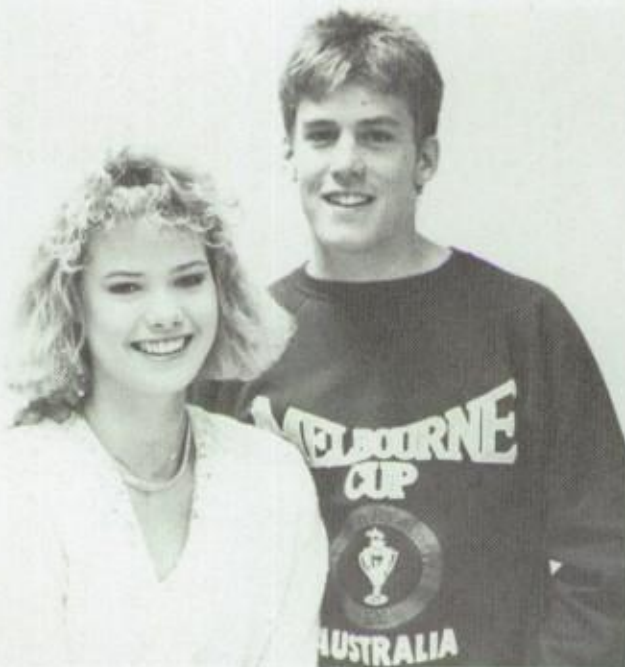

The climax of the evening was when the Sweetheart Royalty were crowned. The royalty were as follows: King and Queen were Skip Steward and Stephanie Higgins; Senior Attendants were Scott Reutter and Tina Berg; Junior Attendants were Sam McIntyre and Wendy Landers; Sophomore Attendants were Adam Lodge and Erin Schwartz; and Freshman Attendants were Chad Merz and Missy Meyer.

Key Club had sponsored the dance, which had been a month in planning. They spent many hours just cutting out heart decorations. Also, they organized and diligently counted each ballot of the campus-wide sweetheart royalty election. The day of the dance Key Club worked six hours setting up everything.

The decorations, clothes, music, food, royalty, and planning insured that it would be "a classic romance."

ORGANIZATIONS: CATCHING ACTIVITIES

The dance club is stepping out in style in their pink sweatshirts.

The year began with a great flood of announcements encouraging students to become an active part in campus life. "Come to this meeting" or "Apply now" were announcements commonly heard over the intercom in third hour classes. School organizations advertising for interested people was just the beginning. When the students went to the first meeting, they began to learn what spirit supporters were all about.

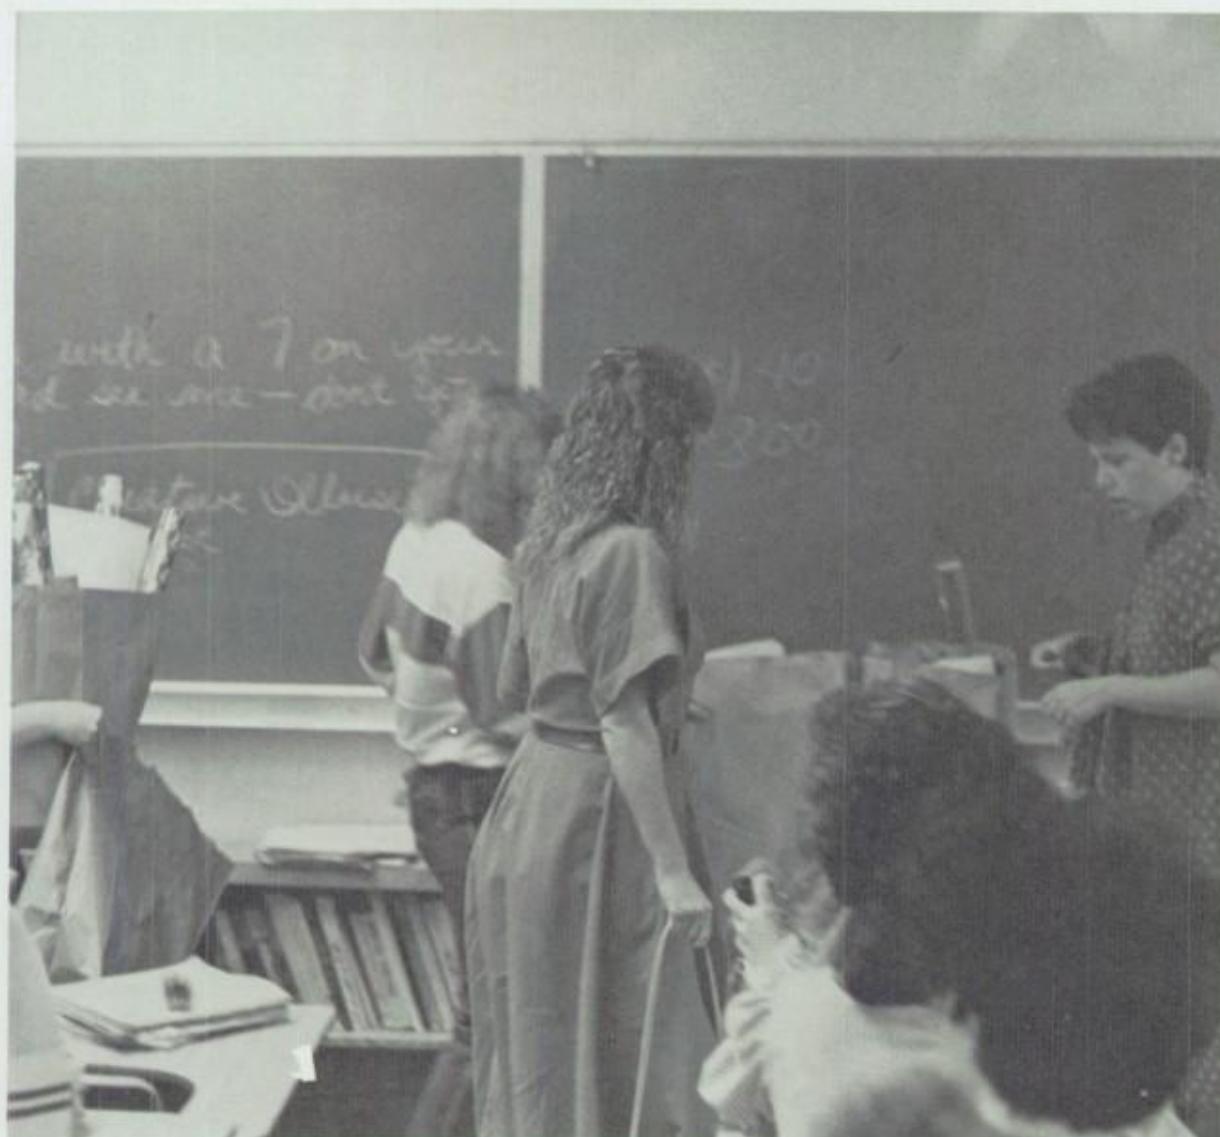

There were sport support groups, such as Hoopsters for the basketball team, and Sidekicks for the soccer team. There were academic support groups, such as foreign language clubs for Spanish, German, and French. And there were a variety of special interest groups, such as Ski Club, Chess Club, Orchesis, Spiritline, etcetera.

The list of prospectives was virtually endless! Most students chose their favorite organization and joined, but some, unable to make a decision, tried joining them all! Regardless of the number of clubs one joined, in each the same excitement was alive. Members proudly wore the colors that represented their clubs and gave freely of their time and energy to create the spirit that is still alive in Moon Valley.

Good salespersons were developed while selling candy, cookies, cups, candles, and you name it! They were out in force at the games, in the locker bays, and classrooms, peddling their goods. "Who's selling candy bars?" or "Do you want to buy a bagle?" were commonly heard around campus causing students to urgently seek them out and creating an excitement.

More excitement was created during club meetings after school as the members discussed new money making ideas, conventions they might attend, trips they might take and awards which they might compete for.

Being active in organizations helped members feel more proud of their place in campus life, and develop salesmanship skills, as well as learning to set and achieve goals. Because of all the enthusiasm that they shared and the special pride they took in being a "part of it all", it was easy for all to catch the spirit and pass it on.

FORUM

Forum is Characteristic of Forum, the speech club on campus, is the bringing out of a personality one never knew existed. Butterflies emerge from their cocoons. With the help of Margaret Lipscomb and Joe Westling, the speech members have competed in many tournaments. At the beginning of the year, one took place on this campus. Needless to say, coordinating all those speeches was a feat in itself. To all who were involved in Forum, may we say, you left us speechless?

1986 BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE

Boys' and Girls' State educates students in the operation of the law. Students are selected by showing the following qualities: character, leadership, attitude, and involvement in the school and church, plus service in the community.

Once students have been selected during the school year, they travel to a summer workshop, where cities are established, officials are elected, and laws are made and enforced. Classes on law and educational assemblies are attended, ranging from careers to party unity.

The 1986 Boys' and Girls' State program lasted one week, June 9-15. They were both sponsored by the American Legion, but the Girls' was held at the University of Arizona, and the Boys' was held at Northern Arizona University.

Along with creating a simulated state, the delegates listened to many speakers. The speeches were not only from professionals, but also their own peers.

Not everything was serious caucuses, conventions, and campaigns: they also spent many hours getting to know each other, building lasting friendships. They had parties, watched movies, and played various sports activities.

The boys and girls that attended the State program, left with a greater understanding of how their government functions, members of fun and friendship, and an appreciation of how the two can work together.

MVAA

Moon Valley Athletic Association membership is open to any varsity letter athlete. Every year the members have a meeting of the minds to come up with new and inovative ideas for the Homecoming Dance. With high hopes for this year's dance the members had a tough decision. Should they stick with traditional semi-formal or go to casual. MVAA put the idea to a vote and finally ended up with a fun-filled elegant semi-formal Hawaiian Luau.

MODERN DANCE 86-87

Moon Valley Orchesis Dance Club's purpose is to promote the appreciation of dance as well as all fine arts. Our secondary purpose is to raise funds in order to produce our annual dance revue. This production gives our dance students the opportunity to experience performing on a stage in front of a live audience. To be a performer, each student must go through an audition very similar to auditions held by local community theatres. The club also conducts sales throughout the year to raise funds to help support the dance program, the mirrors, carpeting, video equipment, records and tapes. Awards are given to members who have earned points from sales and attendance and support of all school activities.

The N.J.R.O.T.C. program offers an opportunity for high school students to learn the basic elements and requirements for national security. The club is composed of those students enrolled in Naval Science. The club sponsors an annual Military Ball, an awards banquet, a trip to naval training facilities and ship-board cruises and a farewell party honoring graduating seniors. The goals of the program are to develop informed and responsible citizens, strengthen the individuals character, help form habits of self-discipline, develop respect for an understanding of the need for constituted authority in a democratic society, and develop an interest in the military service as a possible career. VOCAL MUSIC

For those students musically inclined, Moon Valley vocal department offers five forms of choir. The Earth Angles; consisting mostly of beginning students; The Rock-etts, the intermediate group; Galaxy and Aurora Borealis, advanced singing groups; and Concert Choir, a conglomerate of students from all the groups and the choir classes.

Choir membership helps students develop poise, self-confidence, leadership, and responsibility. Students are given opportunities to perform solos and in small groups as well as in choir.

The choir began the year by performing at the Ice Cream Social. Next they sang at open house. Singing at the annual Christmas Concert, the alumni of choir joined them on stage for the finale, when they sang Handel's Messiah. Concert Choir performed at the 8th grade orientation. Galaxy, Aurora Borealis, and individuals competed at NAU for the Solo Ensemble Festival. Many of the students rated excellent. They also performed during their Spring Concert. In April some choir students participated in the State Music Festival at NAU. Along with the concerts, they had various fund raising projects to furnish scholarships to NAU Music Camp and buy letters and awards. With all these activities the choirs developed many personal qualities as well as the one that brought them together, music.

SKI CLUB

Do you enjoy the refreshing bite of cold air on your face? Do you like the exciting but frightening feeling that follows a sudden jump down a roller coaster? Does your eyes become entranced when you see a picture of mountains covered in fluffy, white snow? Do you like getting rowdy with a large group of people? Then you just might be ready for the challenging and fun group called Ski Club! This club is for people interested in skiing. You don't have to know how to ski to become a member, but you should be willing to try, at least to have fun.

The Ski Club took two big trips this year, once during Christmas vacation, and once during Spring Break. They also had numerous other mini trips. Throughout the year they had various fund raisers to help lower the cost of the ski trips. Just before Thanksgiving vacation, they sold scrumptious, mouth watering pies. Ski Club, you gave us a lift!

One of the largest groups on campus, the Ski Club meets for one final planning session, before they take off for a big ski trip to Purgatory.

SPANISH CLUB

Habla Espanol? Si! Si!

Do you speak Spanish? Do you crave tortillas? Do you love pinatas? Well ... you've come to the right club! Each year, Members of MV Spanish club participate in various fundraisers and cultural activities. Late this fall, members sponsored the school-wide Mexican dinner and classes made pinatas. In Spring, members were provided the opportunity to hand-make Mexican flour tortillas.

Composed of students from all-levels of Spanish classes, this group learns about age-old Spanish traditions, holidays, and heritage. Each class elects two class representatives that in turn compose a council of class representatives. Elected annually, the responsibility of these leaders is to voice the concerns of the individual members, serving as a means of informing members of club activities.

Through fund-raising activities such as croissant sales and T-shirt sales, members are able to contribute money to be used for prizes for the French Test Organization.

C.O.E.

Cooperative Office Education is what C.O.E. stands for. But that is not all it means. COE is a class, club, and job.

In order to become a part of this organization, one must be a senior, and have taken one business course (typing 1-2 in recommended). Also, a career interest in an office occupation is needed. Then a student must apply and be interviewed by the C.O.E. coordinator, Jane Volckmann. If accepted he/she will attend the C.O.E. class, as well as other classes for part of the day. Plus, he/she will be employed in an office for at least 15 hours a week.

Through classroom instructions and on-the-job training, a student can develop business practices and procedures, a business like attitude, self-confidence in a work situation, how to work with people, and how to advance and move "up the ladder" in a chosen field. Along with these skills, each will earn money and determine the exact career choice in the business world.

MODEL U.N.

The Arizona Model United Nations is a group of students who enjoy learning about world affairs and being actively involved in understanding the role of the United Nations in our world today. The highlight of the year is the two-day State Model U.N. convention in Tucson, Arizona.

This year Arizona Model U.N. celebrated its 25th Anniversary. During those years they brought to the University of Arizona, speakers from the United Nations Secretariat, who represented both great expertise and wide range of specialization. They have involved hundreds of university students and thousands of high school students.

The keynote speaker was Mr. James O.C. Jonah, for Field Operational and External Support Activities.

They dealt with a variety of topics through various sessions and caucus meetings.

There was a Legal Committee that discussed two topics: definition and control of terrorism and disposal of pollutants in the atmosphere and the ocean.

The Security Council discussed two topics: the Iran-Iraq war and the use of force.

The International Court of Justice simulated a trial of an actual dispute, through not an actual case, between the United States and Canada, over international classification of the Northwest Passage.

The Political Committee addressed two important problems: the refugee situation in Central America, and the rights of persons belonging to national, ethnic, religious, linguistic, or other minorities.

The Economic and Social Council discussed the rights of women in employment, and the code of conduct for transnational corporations.

Covering a variety of topics in a two-day convention the Arizona Model U.N. provided many students and teachers with a better understanding of how the United Nations functions.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Body - Kathryn Pollak, Dawn Hoffman, David Musick, Christine MacDonald, Emily Kleeschulte.

The student government is designed to provide participating students with the opportunity of being directly involved in the school and community service. Students develop leadership potential and an awareness of the need for productive involvement. Membership is by election. Other students can become involved too by joining the Leadership and Communication class. This class includes Student Council members, class officers, and other students who are given permission by the teacher to join. Rhoda Marcus coordinated the class this year. The course is designed to provide students with an awareness of intricacies of representative government and communications through direct involvement with the processes. Classroom instruction is combined with leadership experience through student council meetings, committee meetings, and projects. They learned how to use parliamentary procedures, and revised the student councils constitution this year. They helped plan the Homecoming events, the Sweetheart Dance, the pep assemblies, and the Spring Bazaar, to name a few. They sold spirit ribbons for each football game this year also. The highlight of their efforts was when they paid for the stone sign in front of the administration building. It will be a lasting memento to the goals of this school and to education.

The student council proudly participated in the Homecoming pep assembly, showing off their school spirit.

Senior Class - The senior class is composed of elected representatives of the graduating class. Their function is to represent the Senior Class in student body decision making and to provide the leadership for Seniors in numerous campus activities of their final year at Moon Valley.

Sales, fundraisers, and many other activities are coordinated by the students in a cooperative learning, sharing, and work experience on and off the school campus. In addition, they attended workshops to improve their leadership qualities so that they will be able to help Moon Valley out in the next three years.

Imagine this.

You've just left a world where the sun sometimes finds its way out of bed at 10 o'clock in the morning.

A place where your average week of school consists of biology, geology, chemistry, religion, world history, art, math, physical education, and five different languages; French, Swedish, German, English, and Finnish.

A realm that includes the glamour of television's Dallas and Dynasty, not excluding the newly imported Miami Vice.

No, you haven't just crossed over from the Twilight Zone. I've simply sketched a brief picture of the lifestyles of the rigid and Finnish.

Yes, it is true. Students really are required to have about 13 classes a year in Finland. Fortunately, the classes are only 45 minutes long with 15 minute breaks between each class. And if you ask any native of Finland, you'd probably expect her to reply (perhaps fluently in five different languages) "that Americans are getting off easy."

But as I sat down to lunch with one such person, (she would not eat ... a sure sign of intelligence) she replied nothing of the sort, let alone insinuate it.

Even so, whether she will admit to it or not, it cannot be denied that we have an easy schedule. However, it's just a matter of getting used to, whether it be an all-American full load of so lowly classes, or to "do it as the Finns have," and take the almighty 13 classes. In any case, this cannot possibly be the reason one such Finn "up and left Finland" to attend Moon Valley through an exchange program.

Taina Laukkonen is one such Finn. She is neither average nor eccentric, and certainly cannot be easily separated from any other 17 year old senior who tromps around campus. She is, however, different. Laukkonen is the only foreign exchange student here at the big "MV" this year.

Suddenly, from across the table, in a very British-Swedish sounding accent, she answered "I think the main reason I decided to become an exchange student was to learn the language. There's no better way to learn the language than to speak it."

A revelation? No. But precise.

"You have to live here to learn about the culture. It depends on your attitude if you can make it."

Laukkonen, born into Helsinki, Finland just 17 years ago, has had eight years of English, four years of Swedish, three years of German, and one year of French. A total of eighteen years of foreign languages more than the number of years of English some of us have had!

Laukkonen decided when she was 11 years old that she wanted to come to America. She was accepted into the program one year ago.

"I think it's a great opportunity. You have to live here to learn about the culture. It depends on your attitude if you can make it."

Interestingly enough, Laukkonen's parents were very supportive of her. They felt her coming here was a good idea and would be a great experience for her.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Comparative sizes of Finland and the United States

"My mother doesn't speak English. But my father does... he wished he could have done it (get into the program) when he was a boy."

Here at Moon Valley, Laukkonen is taking theatre arts, modern dance, U.S. history, German, French, and typing. She has made many friends here at MV, and feels like she is one of us now.

"People come to talk to me, they want to know about Finland. They're very interested."

Gregg Swayer, world history teacher and cross-country coach, explained, "She has made an outstanding job of adjustment. She is well accepted by students."

Laukkonen is very interested in pursuing a career in language. "I want to study languages. Nobody speaks Finnish outside of Finland," Besides Finnish, Swedish is the other official language of Finland.

Laukkonen feels America is very much like she expected it to be. "I love the weather. The winters are too cold in Finland. It's very humid in Finland and it sometimes gets to be 28 degrees below 0 (Celsius)."

Since Finland is farther north on the hemisphere than we are, days are very short in the winter and very long in the summer. Just last Tuesday in Helsinki, Finland, the sun rose at 9:38 in the morning and set at 3:02 in the afternoon. Imagine leaving for school in the dark, and then coming home in the dark. Strange, isn't it?

Food in Finland isn't terribly different from American food. The chief difference is the style in which it is cooked. The Finns cook their food more often in the oven, whereas we fry our food more. There's also much more fast food in America. Laukkonen feels that American food is "just as good" though.

And, like us, Vehicles are driven on the right side of the road in Finland. But sadly, the legal driving age is 18 years old.

There is no daytime television in Finland, but they definitely have evening programming. Dallas and Dynasty are among Laukkonen's favorites, but besides all the glitter of Joan Collins' gowns, our average Thursday night line up seems to dominate Finnish television, including The Cosby Show, Family Ties, and Night Court. Miami Vice was added last autumn.

And as for Christmas, Laukkonen stated, "It's quite much like yours." Laukkonen's family (her parents and younger sister) spend Christmas with their relatives. They have ham and codfish for dinner, and they get their presents in the evening. And yes, they very definitely have a Christmas tree.

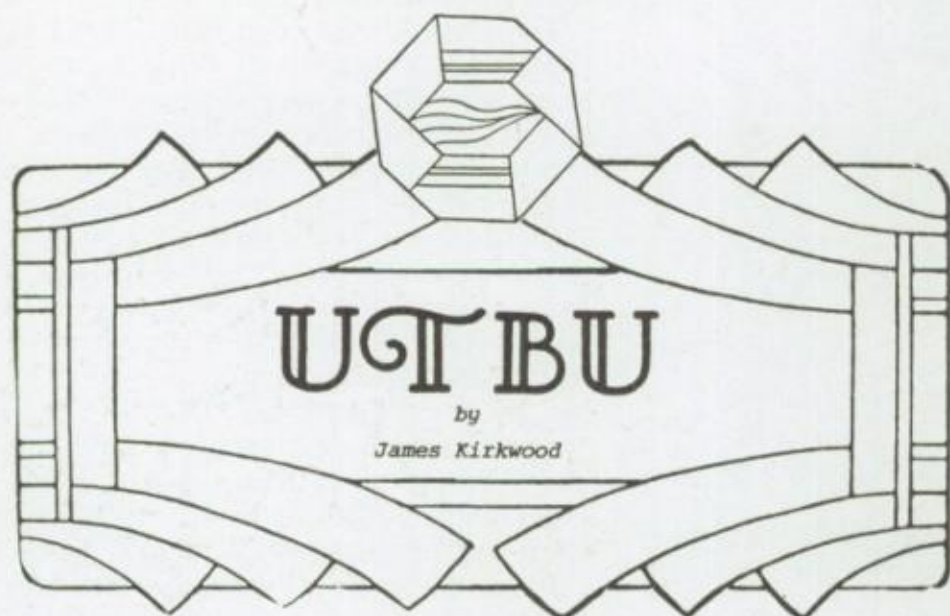

Laukkonen plans to "Finnish" high school here at MV, and will be returning to Finland next June after school ends.

Being awarded as December's student of the month, at Red Lobster, Taina Laukkonen proudly stands with a Red Lobster manager.

MOON VALLEY THEATRE ARTS

PRESENTS

What is an UTBU? You may have heard the word in morning announcements last December, or seen it in large block letters plastered on any number of walls across Moon Valley campus, but did you ever really know what the word meant? Moon Valley Theatre Department defined the word as follows: UTBU — Unhealthy To Be Unpleasant, a play by James Kirkwood. Moon Valley fall production told the story of William Uggims, a well-meaning, yet terribly eccentric blind man who is bent on the elimination of all of life's unpleasant people. Portrayed by Greg Catallier, this character, through his many interactions with other characters and his final fateful lesson, learned that being unpleasant truly is unhealthy.

Perhaps the most pleasing aspect of this play was the very talented cast that brought it to life. Kathy van Leeuwen, portraying Madge; Traci Nikolaus, who portrayed Anastasia Amber; Cathleen McDonald, portraying Shirley Amber; Francis Heaney, portraying J. Francis Amber; and Michael Berggren, portraying Eugene Boyer continually turned out excellent performances. Other appearances were made by Jill Gilbreth (Connie), Leanne Bone (Valerie Rogers), Erica Van Coevering (Blank Rogers), and Jay Groft (Jimmy Newton).

But a great deal of credit is due to go to those students who worked behind the scenes in this production. Although they were never seen on stage, these people, dedicated their time and energy to make this play successful.

Final recognition should go to the two talented directors who made this experience possible, Miss Julie A. McCarthy and Miss Marie T. Kerwin. From all who participated in UTBU and from all who attended the performance, we thank you.

MOON VALLEY CATCHES A WAVE

Moon Valley has caught it! It's Homecoming week, and a #1 ranked Moon Valley High is brimming with excitement! Students and faculty support their team with numerous homecoming activities arranged by the student council. Adorning themselves in spy, western, surfer, and the traditional M.V. red, white, and blue attire, they once again prove to be a school of tremendous spirit!

M.V.'s many fans, families, and spectators fill the stands and root on their own Rocket players, caught up in the activity on the field.

And as the final seconds tick away on the time clock, M.V. catches a final wave of spirit with a score of 18-7!

CLOSE-UP

As the year began, students began formulating plans, making new strategies and devising new tactics. Strategy and Tactics club members soon put their plans into action. Some of the games members played included War Games and Dungeons and Dragons. Using their imagination, they organized and attacked. As they divided and attacked, members found fun and excitement while enhancing and sharpening their thinking skills.

The Moon Valley Close-Up Club is a group that offers interested Social Studies students the opportunity to see both their national and local governments "Close-Up". Through issue seminars, speaker forums, and panel and group discussions, members learn how, with effective communication, they can affect and are affected by their government. Several students travel to Washington, D.C. for one week during the school year and attend a two day program in Arizona that focuses on state and local government and issues through this program.

YEARBOOK CAPTURES SPIRIT WITH "PICA POWER"

What's a pica? Well ... it's the unit of measurement used by the yearbook staff, when putting a page together. Each pica is equal to one sixth of an inch. But what's so powerful about it? This unique measurement helps increase the accuracy and quality of yearbook pages. Each day, pica rulers are pulled out of the drawer and used to measure pictures, captions, and copy. But that's enough yearbook jargon. Let's talk spirit!

The spirit has been captured on many pages of powerful pictures and words. Yearbook staff members have dedicated their time, energy, and creativity to recording the history of Moon Valley during the year. Twenty-one students and their advisor gathered as a class, each weekday in room 900. In addition they put in enormous amounts of time after school and on weekends. They learned many valuable skills in the areas of photography, design, writing, organization, and communication. They made great efforts to be where the action was, as well as study, work off campus, and remain involved in school clubs, organizations, and sports. Along with all this work, they shared moments of laughter, which helped relieve the tension that deadlines create. They cheered,

"We've got P..PO..POWER We've got POWER PICA POWER!"

Through the use of picas, the staff communicated its plans to Jostens, the company who published this yearbook. Mike Riley the Jostens' representatives increased their understanding of this valuable unit of measurement, along with assisting the newly established advisor in meeting her student's needs.

This year will be remembered by all who were involved as the year when "pica power" played a positive role in planning the pages of this yearbook.

SPORTS: CATCHING EVENTS

1986 was a good year for Moon Valley sports. Athletes strenuous work and determination paid off in every aspect!

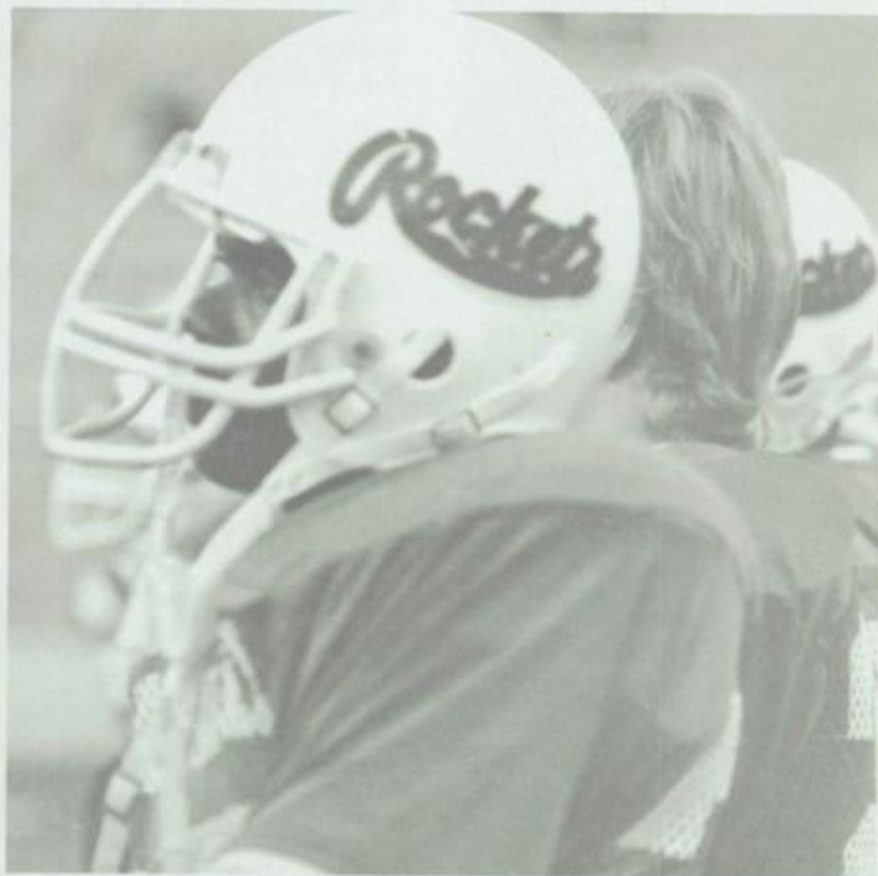

MV Varsity Football Players stormed fields this year with their strength, ability, and teamwork. Pulling together and staying together, MV players secured the #2 spot in the State Championship! Their spirit infiltrated all of the campus and filled Moon Valley with a sort of special "Magic" for the entire fall season!

Further athletic achievements were made by Moon Valley's spectacular varsity volleyball team. Taking 1st place in Divisionals, and 1st place in Invitationals, they're champs "in our book"!

Boys and girls swim did extremely well in '86 with a total win/loss record of 17-7 between them. The boys medley relay team set a new school record of 1:43.84 (yards). Congratulations! Girls swim participated and succeeded in several tournaments and meets.

Cross-Country also had an outstanding year as Freshmen were GUHSD Champs, Boys JV & Varsity held the 3rd best varsity boys' record, and girls' cross-country had a season of 14-6.

Moon Valley High School is proud of these and its many other fine athletes, and congratulates them on a fine year!

SWIMMING

Although Moon Valley boy's swim got off to a slow start this season, swimmers soon plunged into action as they hit a 4-win streak. Midway through the year boy's swim dove into action at Shadow Mountain's Invitational taking sixth place out of twenty-six teams. As the season came to a close Moon Valley boy's swim held a record of eight wins and four losses. Four boys and one alternate represented Moon Valley at the state competition, entering five of the twelve competitive events. Girls' swim started off with a splash in early September. Eager athletes prepared to "catch the wave." Preparation consisted of vigorous 3,000 meter swims and diving practices. Ready and willing to go, M.V. swimmers faced their first 2 meets against Horizon and Xavier. Although they did well competitively they lost to their opponents. But the soggy swimmers, dried themselves off and dove into their work with an impressive determination. Hard work certainly paid off as Moon Valley's Girls' swim had a season of 9 wins 3 losses! Their most impressive win was against St. Mary's. The swimmers won 120-43. 15 girls participated in divisionals where they placed 6th out of 15 teams. 4 girls participated in state, placing 25th out of 35 teams.

GOLF

As the season began the golf team swung into action with drive and spirit. Their drive; however, didn't quite carry them to the green as they quickly lost to Prescott and Cortez, but still winning against Phoenix Country Day. As the season progressed so did the Moon Valley golf team. Although still hitting a few into the sand traps Moon Valley golf team ended the season with 9 wins, 18 losses, and 1 tie. The last game of the season was rained out and never made up. And so after a season of unending drive and determination the Moon Valley golf team packed up their 9-irons and their tees.

VOLLEYBALL

The Rockets' varsity volleyball team capped off its most successful season by capturing Moon Valley's first ever divisional championship and forth in the state tournament held in Tucson.

The varsity entered the divisional tournament as the top seeded team, and emerged victorious 15-3, 6-15, 15-13 in over-time.

In the first round of the state tournament, Moon Valley was eliminated by Maryvale, who went on to win the state title.

Three of Moon Valley's eight varsity team members were voted onto the All Division team as follows: Tina Berg and Shannon Krebbs (1st division), Dawn Schultz (2nd honorable mention).

The Junior varsity volleyball team finished out the 1986 season with wins over Apollo, Greenway, Deer Valley, and Thunderbird.

Some young hopefuls, according to Jacobs, are hitters Kristin O'Gorman, Jennifer Boynton, Nikki Vogt and Nancy Jackson.

The freshmen volleyball team brought its season to a close with a match against Xavier on October 30, turning in what Coach Bill Walsh feels was the best performance of the year.

Competing without top players Nancy Jackson and Nikki Vogt in a match Walsh describes as "exciting", the Rockets overcame a 4-14 defeat in the second game to win 16-4, forcing the match into overtime before being defeated. The season ended with a 5-8 record.

Junior Varsity ended the season with a 14 wins and 2 losses record. Team member Jody Miller was named Athlete of the Month for February. SOCCER

By the Messenger Staff

The Rocket's Varsity Soccer team has high hopes of equaling or bettering last year's second place State finish as they compete again this year in the State Tournament being held through Saturday in Chandler.

"It's hard to say how I think we'll do," says Coach Don Hillegass, "Because there will be eight different teams competing, but I think if we play like we have been and continue to play .

The team's record for the season so far is 7 wins and only 2 losses which were to Chaparral and KOFA. Their record in their "A" League division is 3-0.

The team qualified for last week's Skyline Regional Tournament by defeating the second ranked Horizon team in a game that went into overtime with a final score of 4-2. This win was for Skyline "A" League Championship.

Hillegass states, "The team has progressed well and has matured a great deal, it shows in their attitudes and on the playing field."

BASKETBALL

Presently ranked number 2 in the Skyline Division, Moon Valley basketball team is nearing the end of its season and is preparing for the play-offs. Sporting an over-all record of 11 - 5, Rockets have defeated such teams as Greenway (51 - 43), (last year's runners-up in the play-offs) Brophy (62 - 53), and Thunderbird (77 - 59).

Leading the team were such outstanding players as Jeff Girard, Tom Balcom, Mike Calmese, and Jeff Jenkins; all seniors this year. These and the many other valuable Rocket players led by Coach Vogt are enjoying an extremely successful season and hold high hopes for continuing to succeed in future years.

As for the upcoming season play-offs, Mr. Vogt interjects, (as taken from the Moon Valley Messenger) "I think we're in there."

The Junior Varsity basketball team had a season record of three wins and seventeen losses. Coach Huddleson said "This year's team has been much improved. They were very hardworking and made great strides in becoming a full court up-beat team." Top scorers for the season were Jeff Jones, Adam Lodge, and Mike Keaton.

VARSITY AND J.V. GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Varsity Team

TAKING OVER THE COURT!

Junior Varsity Team

The squeak of shoes, rubber soled shoes, broke the silence. The pounding of the bouncing ball resounded through the gymnasium. The awesome girls basketball teams had come for the first practice of the season. The noise soon grew and the talk died down. This year's team was looking real good. The jumpshots were going in and free-throws made the basket too.

As time wore on the teams began to really come together as a whole. The atmosphere was positive and it was as if the teams had become one big family. The coaches advised and helped.

Suddenly one night the girls showed up. They had practiced hard and this was it. The air was filled with excitement and anticipation. Practice began and things looked good. Hopes were high. As people began to arrive nerves became tense. Suddenly the court was cleared. Our girls filed on first and next came the opposing team. Before you knew it a whistle blew and the game began. Hopes still high, the girls jumped into action.

GIRLS' TENNIS

The girls tennis team's key to victory this year will be experience, according to head coach Jill Green.

"We have a stronger team than last season, the girls have improved since last year and our record well reflect this", said Green. The team opened their season with an impressive 6-3 win over Prescott. They also scored shut outs over Greenway and St. Mary's.

"We are going to win those close matches that we lost last year" It was exciting to beat Prescott, a team that we have not beaten in a while." Says Green. Green predicts that Horizon, Xavier, Washington, and Sunnyslopes will be the Rockets toughest competition.

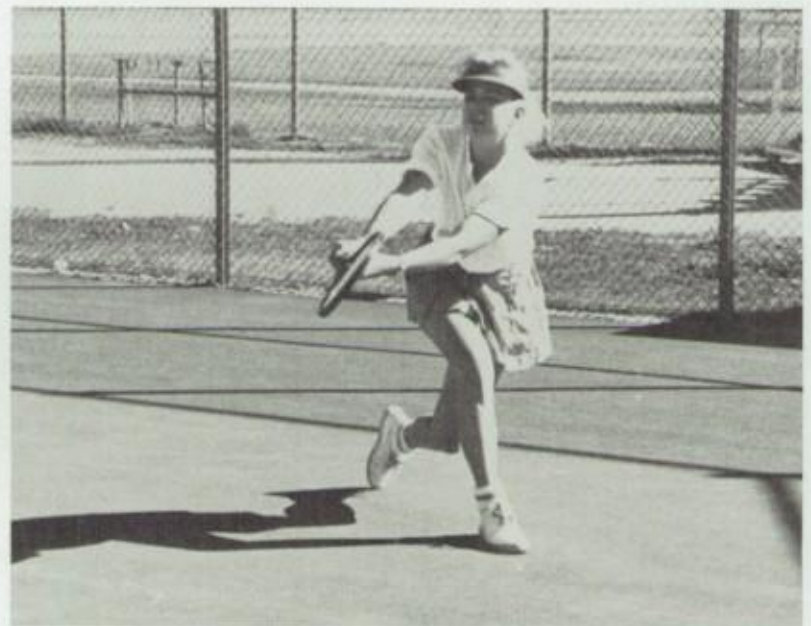

The Divisional Tournament will be held in April at Scottsdale's Registry Resort.

"If the girls continue to improve we should qualify players for the State tournament," said Green.

Green also has high expectations for the Junior Varsity team.

Although tennis seems like a quiet sport compared to the rugged sport of football or soccer, the boys on the tennis team sure work up a sweat. Moving up and down on the tennis court in the warm spring sun, concentrating on a tennis ball and the possible moves of their opponents, isn't easy. The movement of each players feet and the precise positioning of his arms in unison with the racket, enables him to place the ball over the net, into the opposite side of the court, and put his opponent at a disadvantage.

This years' tennis team has five returning varsity players, which has given them high hopes for the 1987 season. With Chuck Crumrine as their experienced and dedicated coach, and of course lots of practice, they are sure to be a success.

BASEBALL '87

At the beginning of spring, the Moon Valley Baseball teams, stepped up to the plate and swung into action. Team members turned out for practice, but soon had to delay practice due to rain. As the time neared, hopes and spirit grew. Moon Valley faced Mesa High for the first game of the season. This years Varsity team looks good, according to Coach Luketich. He has hopes of making the play-offs. The ROCKETS have not been to the playoffs since 1977. The JV and the Frosh teams are looking good also, and should have a really good season.

The tension builds as the runners approach the final stretch. They block out other distractions and concentrate on finishing first. Their strides remain steady but the look of determination remains on their faces. As they run their last leg, they push their endurance to the limit. Suddenly, one bolts in front of the pack like a flash of lightening, finishing the race to add another victory to the record.

The team members not only possessed speed and strength, but they showed a lot of discipline, the will to work hard and personal dedication.

With all these factors working together, the Moon Valley track teams reached new heights in their achievements.

WEIGHT AND DISCUS

SPRINTERS AND HURDLERS

YEAR IN SPORTS

Practice, Competition, And Friends Are Gained In Sport Participation.

The winning teams of the year are showered with glory and attention, while other teams are left in the shadows. Those other not so prosperous teams continue to strive, hoping that someday they too will be amongst the recognized stars.

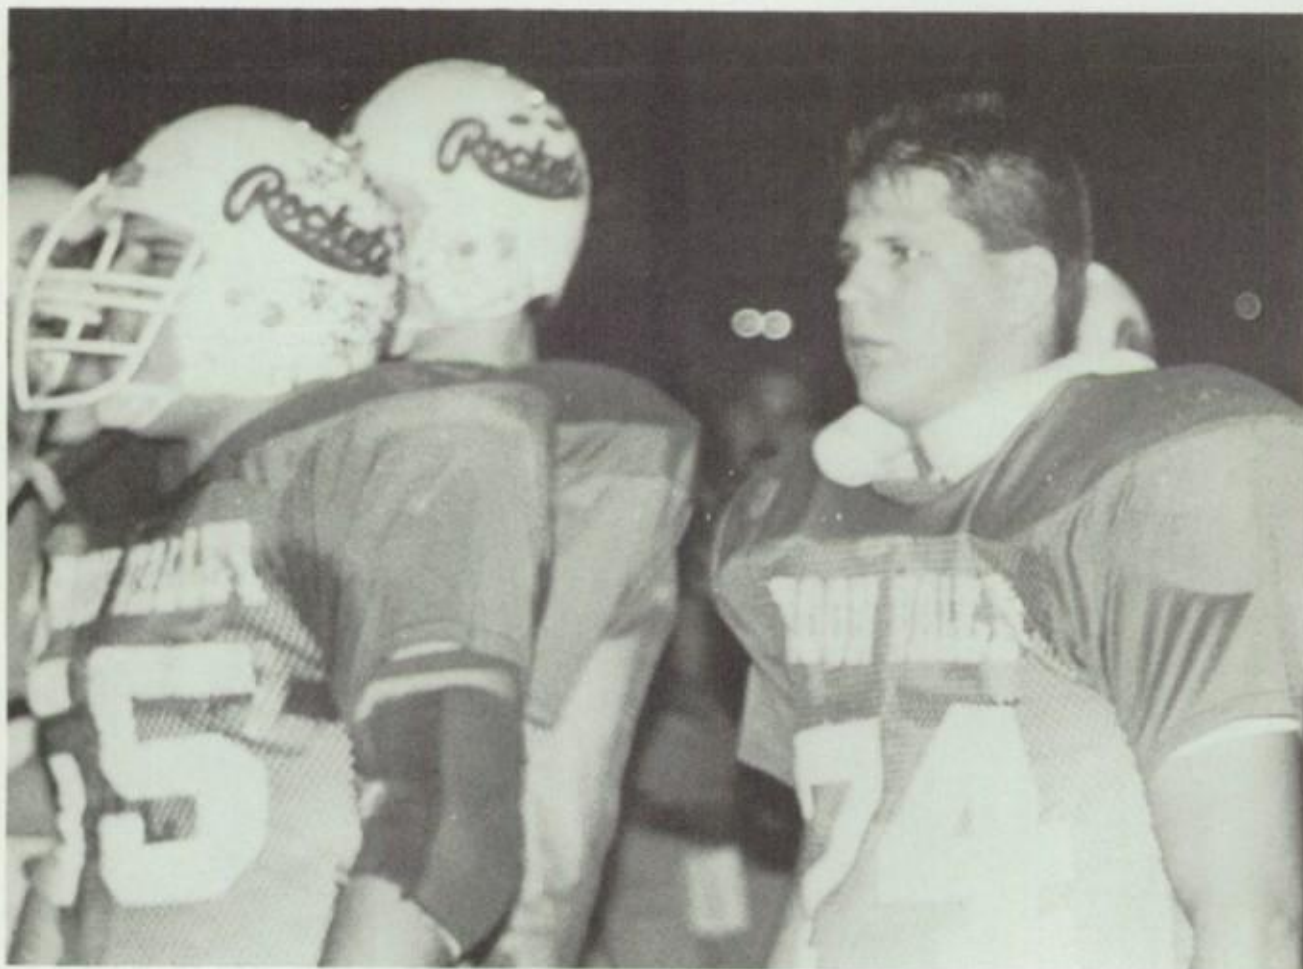

Every participant is an interscholastic sport, whether a talented natural or a heartfelt benchwarmer, puts in a great deal of time and effort, gaining experiences that make the final score secondary.

Each sporting event brings new experiences, friendships, goals, and most importantly, a personal feeling of accomplishment. The experiences that an athlete encounters become a valued part of his/her school days, and are fondly looked upon.

Along with experience and competition come friendships. Long, grueling practices, endured together, not only bring improvement and progress, but a closeness amongst the teammates.

In the face of an opponent, the member of a team possesses a special inner drive, a desire for self-satisfaction. He/she must forget the past scores, realize he/she has done the best possible, and prepare for the next game. He/she must remember that the love of the sport is more important than the results. Scores, statistics, and rankings become meaningless when an athlete remains unbeaten in a positive attitude, inner drive, and self satisfaction.

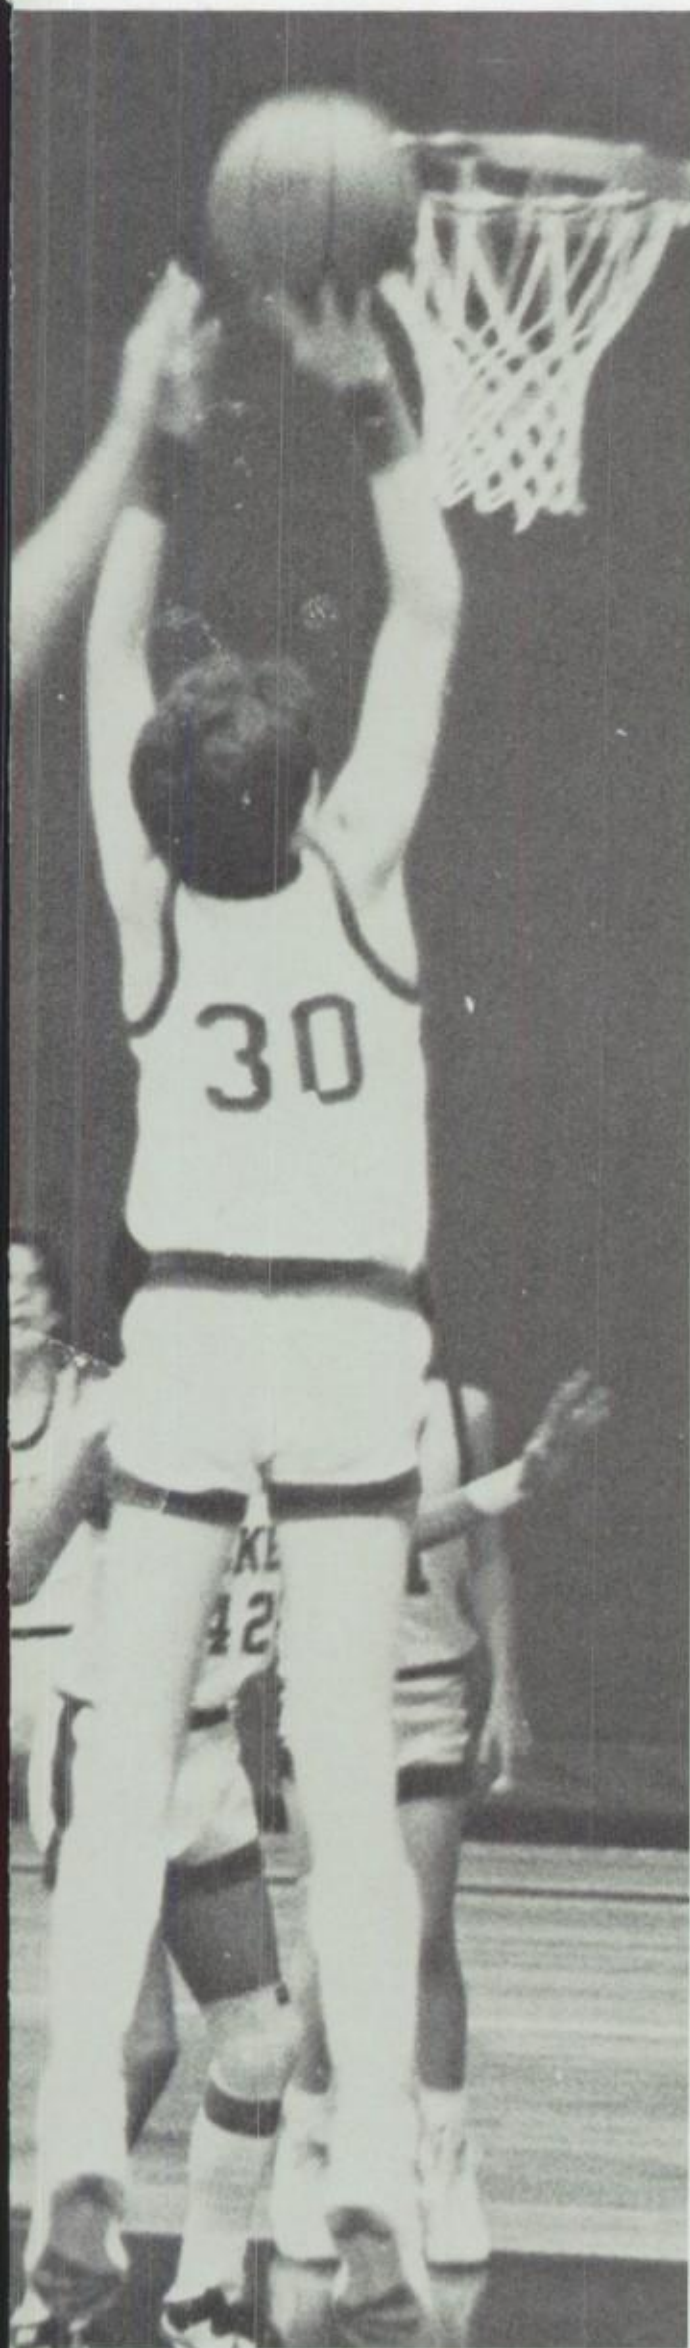

The varsity football team achieved its primary goal of being number one throughout the season. Their only disappointment was the final game, which ranked them second. Defeated at the end, but Undefeated in the hearts of their fans.

228/Year In Sports

Basketball enjoyed a successful season. We regret the yearbook went to print before the season was over. Teamwork was an important factor of any game, as well as the abilities of their opponents. But with plenty of practice with their coach, Mr. Vogt, and the right mental attitude, success can remain on their side.

Volleyball surpassed all odds! They were unable to practice on campus due to the rains that flooded the gym, causing the wood floor to become warped. So, they traveled to other schools to practice and play home games. The varsity ended the season by winning the divisionals. Perseverance and hard work paid off.

Softball- a game of strategy and technique- both are areas in which Moon Valley players excel. Undefeated, M.V. Rockets "carry their winning streak into the state tournament" (MV Messenger) where they hope to defend their title of state champs. New coach, Ginger Kurtz, states that the team has worked hard and that the players have really pulled together.

Swimming along to a splashing success was one of the more enjoyable rewards for the swim team. But sharing the swimming pool with another school, caused them to practice many evening hours. Dedication, flexibility, and teamwork helped them to achieve a rewarding season.

FACULTY: CATCHING PEOPLE

The faculty of Moon Valley are the backbone of the school. Daily they share pertinent information and experiences with students, hoping to be a contributing factor to the well educated, conscientious society of the future.

Their presence is felt and appreciated far beyond the classroom, as they dedicate their valuable time and talents to students in variety of ways. Assuming the "all knowing" title of "advisor," they virtually accomplish miracles. In addition, they sponsor an endless array of clubs and organizations, coach winning athletic teams, and teach night and summer school classes.

The faculty has not only educated Moon Valley students, but have helped each student become an individual. They have truly touched our lives in a very special and significant way. For that, we thank them.

WORLD CATCHING EVENTS

1986 was in every aspect, a year to be remembered. It was a year of pleasure and of pain, one of heartbreak and of smiles. It was a year filled with changing, growing, and progress politically, economically, and socially.

Among those events most memorable in the political scope were the much debated Iranian-Contra scandal, the terrifying Chernobyl nuclear accident, a Phillipine uprising in which Ferdinand Marcos was ousted and Corozone Aquino was instilled, the U. S.-Soviet "mini-summit" held in Iceland, growing global terrorism, and an attempt to curb rising terrorism that ended in a U. S. air strike against Libya. Economically, the world is more prosperous than past records show and, most importantly, one might note that, generally speaking, our world is at peace; peace- except in Lebanon, Afghanistan, and Central America where blood continues to be shed. But the future holds peaceful promise there as well. Also in the public eye was the tragic Challenger disaster in which a booster rocket exploded, killing the seven brave astronauts on board. On a more positive note the United States made superior progress in aeronautics as the Voyager, a lightweight glider plane, completed its world wide circumnavigation just as nineteen eighty-six came to its close.

Further reasons for celebration came as Americans nationwide watched such special events as the 4th of July centennial celebration of Lady Liberty and the wedding of Prince Andrew and Sarah Ferguson.

Entertainment in 1986 was spectacular as both old and new artists provided their public with record breaking music hits, a variety of enjoyable screenplays, and a good extent of television diversions. Billboard

Music charts proclaim Whitney Houston #1 pop artist for '86. Following closely on her heels was Heart at the #2 spot, Janet Jackson at 3, Sade at 4, and Miami Sound Machine at 5. George Strait topped country charts as he entertained music lovers with his several hits. In a list of the top five singles in '86 (also according to Billboard), "That's What Friends are For" by Dionne Warwick and Friends secured the #1 spot for the year's record period of four weeks. Falco's "Rock Me Amadeus", Whitney Houston's "Greatest Love of All", "On My Own" by Patti LaBelle and Michael McDonald, and Huey Louis' "Stuck With You" all secured the #1 spot on charts across the country for three week terms. Last year modern inspirational music progressed by leaps and bounds. The number one inspirational album noted for 1986 was Amy Grant's Unguarded. Nineteen Eighty-six marked a new trend in music as listeners all over the U.S. became caught up in the movie craze. Statistics show that more and more of the top hits on the charts came off of the soundtracks of hit movies. The number one sound track of the year, Top Gun, was just such one. Pulling in millions of viewers, this box office smash remains to be the movie that most teenagers rate their favorite. Other success stories were The Color Purple and Steven Spielberg's Stand By Me.

Once again, television remains to be this nation's preferred form of entertainment. Faithful prime time viewers tune in weekly to peek in on the lives of their favorite families. This year, America's favorite T.V. family was T.V.'s beloved Huxtable family from #1 Cosby Show. 1986 was a good year — a year to remember.

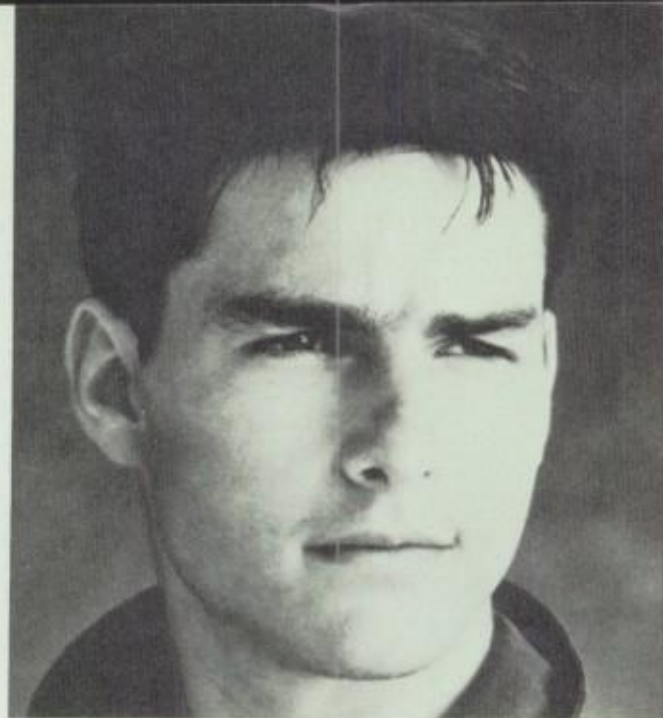

Above - Last 4th of July in 1986, millions of American's celebrated the birth of their nation and the restoration of Lady Liberty with a spectacular fireworks display.

Above - Making headlines last fall was the royal wedding of Princess Fergie (Sarah Ferguson) and Prince Andrew. Below - Every Thursday, viewers nationwide tuned in to watch their favorite T.V. family tackle the humorous problems of their everyday life in The Cosby Show.
